PREFACE.

Although Dickinson College has a history running back over more than one hundred years, yet nearly a century had passed before any systematic attempt was made to find out what had become of her children. The Alumni Association of the College, at its meeting in June, 1881, instructed the Corresponding Secretary, Prof. J. A. Lippincott to prepare, as far as practicable, a history of the graduates of the College. For this work Prof. Lippincott had accumulated a large amount of material, and intended soon to begin its publication when, in 1883, he was called to the Presidency of the University of Kansas, and was therefore obliged to give up the project. The work lay untouched for about a year and a half when the present editor was asked to take it up; what success he has had in his undertaking will appear upon examination of the book. That it is defective is only too apparent, but if any one else had undertaken the work, he would probably have equal reason to lament his shortcomings.

The preparation of this work has been rendered especially difficult by the fact that the early records of the College throw no light at all upon the history of the students. They contain simply the names of the graduates, but give no clue as to where they came from. Thus there are some graduates of whom we shall probably never know anything more than the names and the fact that they were graduated here.

Another cause of the imperfection of the work is the indifference, not to say rudeness, of many of the persons concerned, who refused to furnish such information as they had. In the case of living alumni if the parties in question refused to give the desired information concerning themselves, usually no effort was made to get it from any other source, but the names and addresses only were published.

The publication of the names of the non-graduate students was not contemplated in the original plan of the book but it is believed that its interest and value will thus be greatly increased. Much time has been spent in trying to make this list as complete as possible and probably all has been done in this direction that can ever be done. For the period previous to 1833 the only source of information on this point is the records of the literary societies, but it is certain that many students came to College who never joined either literary society, and therefore this record is incomplete and is likely forever to remain so. Undoubtedly many of the names have been assigned to wrong classes for the class is often a mere matter of conjecture. All that these records show is that the person in question was a member of the society at that particular time.

No effort was made to procure sketches of the non-graduates. When the editor happened to be in possession of any important information it has been entered under the name of the person in question. In most cases the addresses there given are those given upon entering College. Additions and corrections here or elsewhere will be thankfully received.

In concluding this work which has consumed much valuable time, the editor desires to express his obligations to those who have given him "aid and comfort" in his difficult and tedious task.

O. B. SUPER.

Dickinson College,
April, 1886.

EXPLANATION.

The names of the graduates in the literary department of the College are printed in Capitals and numbered from 1 to 1308. Under the list of graduates comes the list of non-graduates and this is followed by the list of the honorary alumni, excepting the years 1835 to 1846, when the list of the graduates in law precedes the list of honorary alumni. A date followed by a dash indicates a position held at the present time. When no state is given in an address, it is understood to be Pennsylvania.
